

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

December 7, 1983

Dear Margaret:

I sincerely appreciate your positive response to my decision to certify that Argentina has made significant improvements in human rights. We are sensitive to your concerns on this matter. As we indicated, certification does not mean arms sales and, in any case, any request will be evaluated carefully on a case-by-case basis. We will consult closely with you prior to any proposed major sale.

George Shultz will discuss this issue with Geoffrey Howe in Brussels this week. I agree with the approach you outlined in your letter for the public presentation of our certification decision. We will cooperate fully with your government on all public affairs aspects of the certification process.

George Bush will inform President-elect Alfonsin of our mutual desire to see the Falklands issue resolved peacefully. The Vice President's visit represents our hope that the inauguration of the Alfonsin government will be a major step forward in the new political process in Argentina -- one that will adhere to the democratic ideals we both hold so dear.

With warm wishes,

Sincerely,

The Right Honorable
Margaret Thatcher, M.P.
Prime Minister
London
